The Spirit Garden Project is a 19,250 square foot Indigenous cultural space that will provide teaching, learning, sharing and healing experiences for the Indigenous community of Toronto, the City's diverse citizens, newcomers and visitors. The project responds in part to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada Call to Action 82, for governments to commission and install a Residential Schools Monument in each capital city to honour residential school survivors, and all the children lost to their families and communities. The design of the Spirit Garden revolves around Turtle Island, and offers dedicated places for contemplation, celebration, and ceremonies – open, inclusive and welcoming to all. The fully accessible site includes a reflecting pond, a Two Wampum walkway, a Voyageur canoe, an Inukshuk, and a timber-frame Teaching Lodge. See a 3D flythrough at councilfire.ca/spirit-garden.html
